DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the Remarks filed 8 July 2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 33, 35, 38-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Noone et al. (U.S. Patent 6,591,472). The examiner notes that applicant has claimed priority to 14 February 1994, however it is believed that the subject matter in claims 33, 35, and 38-48 does not have clear support the document filed 14 February 1994. Therefore, the earliest date for support being 18 May 1999, Noone et al. is available as prior art under 35 USC 102(e).

Regarding Claims 33, 35, and 38-48, Noone et al., hereafter "Noone," show that it is known to carry out a method of molding a guide catheter, including removing a portion of the outer layer near the transition region, replacing the removed portion with a different polymer, wherein the transition region has a different flex modulus than the distal and proximal region (Figures 2-8).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8 July 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

It is firstly noted that applicant has not argued that the reference cited does not show or suggest the claimed invention.

Applicant argues that Noone is not available as prior art under 35 USC 102(e) because the claimed subject matter has support in the document U.S. Patent 5911715. This is not persuasive because the examiner cannot find any such support. It appears that the subject matter of 5911715 deals with forming the transition section itself, not a section proximate the transition section, as currently claimed. Therefore, it is maintained that the claimed subject matter has a priority date of May 18, 1999 and that Noone is, therefore, available as prior art under 35 USC 102(e). If it is still applicant's position that support for the current claims is found in 5911715, he is invited to point out the particular sections which he feels provides such support.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
